

It Fits!

Whew, I took the Flutter Sleeve Cardigan to my cousin Allison and here is what it looks like:

And another view also looks great:

In other knittings news, I am finally trying some BMFA Socks That Rock "lightweight" yarn that I bought at Purlesence Yarns a while back. I'm finally knitting a fairly vanilla sock, and I'm absolutely loving it, I have to say:

The colorway is Pebble Beach. My friend Judy thinks that the weight was mislabeled, because I'm knitting on Zero's and coming out at 7 stitches to the inch. So maybe it's really mediumweight, which would be fine by me!
