

It's a Party!

Yesterday at Bluebird, we had the blankets there for all the knitters and crocheters to admire:

It was so fun to watch them come in and find their square in one of the blankets! Yay! Cookies and refreshments were had by many as well.

And I took photos of all the blankets (I miscounted, by the way. We have 12 of them). So, go here to check out the flickr stream of them!

We may have one more celebration - so stay tuned.
