

De squares, de squares

The lovely thing I'm learning about community blankets, ever since last summer when I was "volunteered" for putting together a baby blanket, is the creativity that goes into a small piece of knitting. This time, the pattern was set, so we had the inventiveness in the colors. This blanket will be in honor of Peter Bergmann, who was the husband of Kay Gardiner. As you can see, Brandy has quite enjoyed herself with the packages and knitwear:

[vodpod id=Groupvideo.2476810&w=425&h=350&fv=offsite%3Dtrue%26offsite%3Dtrue%26lang%3Den-us%26page_show_url%3D%252Fphotos%252F44415253%2540N00%252Fsets%252F72157617653927537%252Fshow%252F%26page_show_back_url%3D%252Fphotos%252F44415253%2540N00%252Fsets%252F72157617653927537%252F%26set_id%3D72157617653927537%26jump_to%3D]

more about "De squares, de squares", posted with vodpod