

I thought they were for me.

I decided to finish off some leftover unknown sock yarn and used the lovely Lucy Neatby Mermaid Socks pattern.

The short cuffs make them great house socks (not too warm) and in the winter, they keep my toes toasty when I get in bed, but then are easily slipped off. Apparently, my thoughts about these socks are not correct. Brandy has decided that they are for her:

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.

<http://revknits.com>

