

First Handspun

I made some singles with my spindle that looked kinda cute.

In the second half of the Beginning spinning class, Brooke was quite helpful (ignore that shocked expression on her face - really, how bad can it get, it's just yarn?)

And then after plying, I got this fluffy little pile:

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.

<http://revknits.com>

which turned into this skein:

>

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.

<http://revknits.com>

and is now soaking in tepid water, and will be dried and hung:

Woo-hoo!