

Copping

I'm trying out my beautiful new Asciano Spindle - and she's a real beauty.

The fiber is some beautiful targhee wool top from Abstract Fiber and I've whizzed through 1/3 of it already. This time, I'm not winding it off separately, but putting the cop onto a straw - and it worked!

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.

<http://revknits.com>

I'm still working on a basic sock for Afghans for Afghans - they are continuing the youth campaign until early May, and socks and sweaters are the thing they usually have less of.

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.

<http://revknits.com>

