

FO: Eiki Shawl

The eiki shawl is done, but not without some minor challenges.

The first thing was my issue, I decided to use a smaller yardage than was called for. I was taking a chance, and that was ok. As it turns out, I was slightly short of yarn at the end. If I'd used a smaller needle size, it might have worked better. Oh well.

The second was a minor set of errata - things are fixed now, and were fixed very promptly by the designer, for which I was very grateful.

Here she is (yes, it's a girl shawl, and not just because she's pink):
