

A Pox House Update

Things here at Casa del Pox are pretty boring. Sleep, take more tylenol or ibuprofen, take benadryl, use cortisone cream. Listen to iPod. Blood tests confirmed I never had the chicken pox, we are waiting to hear whether what I have is that. Have you ever wondered by it is called "Chicken" pox? Turns out it had nothing to do with chickens.

No knitting, I kid you not. I am really tired and flu-like symptoms. I did manage a bit of spinning:
