

Presents

A couple of days ago I got some presents:

My Sock Summit Swag and gifts arrived - I may not have gotten there, but my friends picked up my swag for me, and lovely Sue also got me this very cute Sock-aholic bag -- lot's of lovely pockets for utensils.

And here's a close-up of the lovely fiber:

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.
<http://revknits.com>

From Rain City Fibers Arts - a pencil roving in merino, nylon and cashmere in such lovely colors that remind me of the Pacific Northwest. I'm totally looking forward to spinning with it.

And I got cheered by some lovely flowers that the Deacons of my church sent - just in time for me to be able to enjoy them:

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.

<http://revknits.com>

Last night, I finished knitting the Cece sweater, so I hope for a photo soon - it definitely needs blocking.