

Anticipation

It's one day 'til the great R_____ adventure begins. I am not going to do a checklist, because I still don't want to jinx it. But it is so cool that it seems like many of the knitterati will be at Rhinebeck, and that I might ~~stalk~~ bump into them during the day.

I do not have a R_____ sweater, but I will be wearing hand-knit sweaters, and if perchance one of the designers bumps into me, I might get a photo. Or not.

After tomorrow morning, I'm guess no wi-fi or the like. That will be both strange and wonderful. Isn't life grand?
