

Pretties and Holies

I seem to be on a knitting kick at the moment -- small gifts made out of the Ribband pattern. See?

The yarn is leftover stash, so the only cost is the beads and fittings. They crank out pretty quickly!

In other news, there are some socks in need of repairs. Not sure when that will happen, but hopefully before I really need them.

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.
<http://revknits.com>

And in unrelated news, I am so glad that I can now get a flu shot at the pharmacy. Went it to my regular pharmacy to pick up a prescription, and with 20 minutes, I also had my shot, and all the co-pays kicked in. So convenient!