

A New Pattern Preview and Teaching Schedule

This coming weekend is Bluebird Yarn and Fiber's 5th Anniversary sale! Go here to find all the details:

Bluebird is my go-to yarn store for so many reasons: great selection, great prices, and a wonderful owner, Sophie Kurnik! I'll be there in Saturday, September 28th doing some demonstrations of beaded knitting and cables-traveling stitches without a cable needle, plus providing pattern selection support with my trusty iPad for those lovely sale finds! As Sophie's email notes, there will be a ton of yarn and fun to be had by all!

One feature of the sale is the debut of my new pattern, a textured cowl and fingerless mittens pattern. Here's a preview photo!

The pattern, Interlocked, will be up on Ravelry come Saturday, and those who check back with the blog will find a sale code to buy the pattern at 50 percent off from the beginning of the sale through the end of the month!

Plus, I will be teaching a number of classes over the next couple of months at Bluebird. Check out my classes page for more details. All of the classes at Bluebird offer small sizes and personalized attention.
