

Pattern: Interlocked

Today marks the debut of my new knitting pattern - Interlocked - a buttoned cowl and matching fingerless mittens, knit in luscious Malabrigo Twist for high-touch effect. And Sale!

The cowl, pictured below, is one-size, although you could knit it smaller or bigger depending on how you would like it. I used three different buttons, which I think offers a fun touch:

The fingerless mittens come in two sizes, small and large, and each feature the interlocking diamond pattern found in the cowl. It will only take two skeins of Malabrigo Twist to knit both the mittens and the cowl - making it a bargain knit.

I'm publishing this pattern on the day of my local yarn store's 5th Anniversary - the wonderful Bluebird Yarn and Fiber Craft. Sophie has made it through the tough economic times and continues to keep on the current edges of knitting. I'll be down there today to help knitters find lovely uses for their sale yarn.

To celebrate, I'm offering a coupon for 50 percent off the Interlocked pattern on Ravelry. Just click the Buy Now button, and use the coupon code Bluebird as you check out. The code will be good through September 30th!
