

FO: Madame Matisse Shawl

I've finished the Madame Matisse Shawl, and it's definitely a keeper - one skein, with drape, color and texture. The Prism Saki yarn is perfect - once blocked, the drape is just fabulous.

Picot points add a bit of flair and it's only the bind-off, so there's nothing really hard in this shawl - it's a restful knit.

Revknits

Faith and life seen through the stitches we make.

<http://revknits.com>

I'll be writing this up as a pattern (maybe I'll finish by the end of the weekend), and put it up on Ravelry for perusing and sale.