

Ravellenics update

I've been working away in Ravellnics stuff while I was recovering from a bad case of laryngitis and traveling.

So far, two pairs of socks done, three pairs of mittens, only need thumbs for. The last pair mittens. This photo is from yesterday:

All these will go to Afghans for Afghans.

Next Post: I made a very quick trip to Stitches West today, will have a brief report on what I saw!